

Social and Personal

WHITEHEAD-MILLER.

Miss Mary Whitehead, daughter of Mrs. Iear Whitehead of Goshen, and Clair Lester Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller of Goshen, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon by the Rev. J. D. Brody, pastor of the Grace Lutheran church, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Nelson, of 211 South Shore drive. The simple ring ceremony was read. The bride has been employed at the bag factory in Goshen and the groom has been an employe of the knitting mills of that city. The young couple will make their home in Detroit. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Pearl Whitehead, mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller, parents of the groom, Miss Josie Miller, sister of the groom, and Donald R. Whitehead, brother of the bride, all of Goshen. After the ceremony, Mrs. Nelson served a wedding dinner.

Miss Marion Stultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harman Stultz of 217 Myrtle street, entertained a number of friends at a six o'clock birthday dinner Saturday evening. In the afternoon the time was spent in dancing and games. The table was prettily arranged with a centerpiece of rose-colored cosmos and other fall flowers, and favors of tiny rose-colored baskets filled with candy were given. The guests were the Misses Martha Grace Miller, Pauline Margaret Isbell, Harriet Towsley, Amy Cloyes, Margaret Brumbaugh, Kathryn Isbell, Myra and Mary Catherine Swinehart, Esthe Templin, Alice Tutthill, Marjorie and Mary Ellen Swinehart, Vivian Hyt and Betty Van Horn of Sturgis. Miss Stultz received a number of pretty gifts.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hillman, 521 Plum street, was the scene Saturday of a triple-headed birthday, in celebration of the anniversaries of the three Hillman children, two of which fell on Saturday and the other on Sunday. Twelve boys surprised Ralph Hillman Saturday mornoon in honor of his ninth birthday, which was Sunday. At the same time, twelve girls perpetrated a surprise on his sister, Irene Hillman, whose thirteenth birthday was on Saturday. From 2 until 6 the time was spent in games and contests, and light refreshments were served. In the evening, actor Hillman, whose sixteenth birthday it was, was surprised by the advent of ten boy guests. The three guests of honor were presented with many appropriate gifts.

Told them in observance of their tenth wedding anniversary, a large number of relatives and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Elias Hartman Sunday at their home on the river road, Baugo township. Guests were present from Elkhart, South Bend, Klonke, Goshen, Wakarusa and Clodile. Mr. and Mrs. Hartman were presented with nine pieces of aluminum ware, substituted for "the epnventional" tinware. A sumptuous dinner was served by the guests, under the shade of trees in the yard.

Several couples enjoyed a dancing party Saturday evening at the home of Walter Foster, St. Joseph Manor. The evening was devoted to dancing to the music of the choralcelo, and light refreshments were served. The guests were the Misses Marie and Lucie Dawdy and Dorothy Hazel of Goshen, Bernice Lynett, Florence

PERSONAL MEN

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Keene have moved from their former home in the Boyle flat on High street to a home they have purchased at 125 Goshen avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle will occupy the flat they have vacated, having sold their residence at 517 West Lexington avenue to George Wetherbee of South Fifth street.

Mrs. Everett Woods and daughters, Helen and Ruth, of Belvidere, Ill., are the guests of Mrs. C. W. Kirkpatrick of 143 1/2 State street.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ward of North Michigan street spent Sunday at Nappanee.

Mrs. J. A. Hazel and daughter, Dorothy, of Goshen were in Elkhart shopping Saturday.

Ralph Stapp, 400 West High street, who has been critically ill for several months, is reported to be very low today and the end is believed to be near.

The Misses Edith and Margaret Machan and Mrs. R. Evans spent Saturday in Goshen.

The condition of Mrs. H. B. Sargent of 1010 Middlebury street, who has been ill for the past ten days remains unchanged.

Walter Foster returned last evening to Valparaiso to resume his studies.

Kenneth Adams of East Beardsley avenue left last evening for Valparaiso, where he will enter school. He was accompanied as far as South Bend by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Adams.

E. E. Woodford of Niles, Mich., motored to Elkhart yesterday and spent the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Delo of 120 Plum street will leave tonight for Pennsylvania where they will spend several weeks visiting relatives.

Mrs. D. M. Rust of Bristol spent Saturday in the city shopping.

George Brussman of Germantown, Ohio, is visiting at the home of his brother, W. H. Brusman of 1533 South Main street.

Miss Treva Smith of West Washington street spent Sunday in Goshen with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith.

Julia Harper of Vine street, employed in the Templin Music House, is spending a short vacation in Ligonier.

Edward Faye of Albany, N. Y., is a guest of Robert Swinston of West Lexington avenue.

Mrs. Jennie Rossiter of Frances street left yesterday morning for Indianapolis to visit her daughter, Miss Albertine Rossiter.

Miss Mildred Oppenheim of Milford, Ind., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Winer of North Second street.

Miss Viola Higgins of Sykes store spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Higgins of north of Goshen.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Houseman of Urbana, Ind., are visiting their children, Ernest and Orpha Houseman of this city.

Mrs. Margaret Leighton, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bickel and daughters, Romana and Margaret, and Miss Irene Bickel, all of South Bend were the guests of Mrs. Brayton, 1025 South Third street, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Weisenbach of Chicago are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Weisenbach of 507 Hickory street.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Ziesel and

Newest Fashion For Dressing Hair Is With Old-Fashion Comb Holding Looser

SPANISH STYLE, INTRODUCED BY STAGE BEAUTIES, BECOMES A FAD WITH SOCIETY WOMEN.

By BETTY BROWN

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—And now comes a revival in America of one of Spain's most characteristic national fashions—the head dress comb.

After the plastered down, kitten-licked style of coiffure in vogue during the past few years the soft waves of loosened hair, the use of a comb necessitates are hailed with relief by fashionable women.

The style of course made its first appearance on the stage, but like all really becoming fashions, was quickly adopted by women in general.

The shops are showing the richest designs imaginable. The newest combs range in size from small jeweled affairs hardly larger than pins to immense creations as big as fans. And some of the latter more elaborate ones intended for evening wear bear out the resemblance very well.

Like a Fan

The comb, for instance, worn by Miss Joy Tresmand (upper right), is shaped exactly like an open fan. It is made of gold filagree cut in a design of leaves. This in turn is studded at frequent intervals with small diamonds. The edge of the comb is finished with gold balls.

Miss Clara Beck (upper center)

Miss Johnson will go to Baltimore, Maryland, and stay with her sister, Mrs. C. A. Anderson, for an indefinite time.

Ralph Nye, Roy Witter, Charles Nolan and Duke Johnson left Saturday for Shavehead lake where they will spend a week.

Clista Roderick and Mrs. Ray Kauffman spent the week-end in Goshen with friends.

Ernest Steffey of Laporte is visiting at the home of Miss Leona Davis, West Marion street.

Mrs. P. M. Stiver and daughter, Mabel, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Belt and daughter, Mary all of Goshen, visited Mr. and Mrs. George Stiver and family of 600 Maple Row yesterday.

Mrs. Kate B. Schwin returned Saturday from Chicago, where she had been spending several weeks studying vocal under Mrs. Florence R. Magnus. She will re-open her studio on October 1, at 104 Haynes building.

Doc Leach of Indianapolis, a Notre Dame student, was the week-end most exquisitely carved tortoise shell and is a replica of one of the famous Victorian combs. It will be recalled he finds attractive a comb more moderate in size but no less rich in workmanship. This comb is fashioned of the that this English queen, long after the rest of the world had discarded combs as a head dress, insisted upon so arranging her hair. A side view of Miss Beck's head dress showing the use of the same comb appears in the photograph at the lower right.

Gold Filagree

Most characteristic of the Spanish fashion, however, is the comb worn by Miss Tortola Valencia (upper left). This comb is also of gold filagree, un-

The Romances of a Summer Girl.

by Zoe Beckley

COPYRIGHT 1919 BY N.E.A.

(Dorothy, aged 26, is spending the summer at Lively Beach, having staked her job and $500 savings on the chance of winning a suitable husband during the summer. These are her letters home to Joan, her chum.)

—50—
Silversand, the 26th.

Joan dearest:
It is a joy to be at work again! I didn't realize how idleness was boring me. The plutocrat of the railroad, however, is a new type to me, and I don't quite understand whether he is a good boss or an impossible one.

PROMISES GIVES OF VICT

jeweled, but it is so a win favor at least ten in the best of the dinner an four to six The com sewsky (k of real Ita wire.

There is about a co the clever combs and have that count famous as band catch Ever

Perhaps soldiers, p ter, has so adoption o At any ra abandoned comb, and ater and I ter.

More shown for Among th of tortoise filagrees.

meant que ment for "No." "Then v a week an "Living" "Certain We'll be Palm Bea in winter. summer t well fitted will be ch "Think row. Goo

The Hot recently c modeled ened as a

