ENGINEERS' AUXILIARY HOLDS FETE UNDER THE RULE OF PAST PRESIDENTS

The local division, (No. 143) of the G. I. A. to the B. of L. E. held a meeting of special importance yesterday afternoon, at the Odd Fellows' temple.

The session was called to order by Mrs. J. W. Johnson, and turned over to the former past presidents of the division. These officers retired to the ante-room and their re-entrance to the division room was made in the form of a fancy drill, preceded in the line of march by Mrs. G. A. Swinton, bearing a beautiful silk American flag. This drill was received with enthusiastic applause.

Mrs. W. M. McMillan, the oldest surviving past president, acted as president of the day, the other officers being filled as follows: Past president, Mrs. R. T. Proctor; vice president, Mrs. A. J. Curran; secretary, Mrs. Nellie Cronk; insurance secretary, Mrs. F. E. Towsley; treasurer, Mrs. M. F. Floyd; chaplain, Mrs. Emma Schuler; guide, Mrs. Mary Stevens, and sentinels, Mrs. Mary Dibble. The appointed officers consisted of Mrs. Mary Bailey, Adah Hunter, Vonda Cole, Bertha Dibble, Mrs. W. G. Muzzy and G. Shupert.

The ritualistic work of the order was beautifully exemplified, and Mrs. H. A. Bedenkop was initiated into the division.

During the meeting, the members were asked to stand in silent prayer while the names of the deceased past presidents were read.

At the closing, the past presidents were asked to retire to the ante-room, again entering the hall, preceded by Mrs. J. A. Brannan, scattering rose petals. Each past president was presented a beautiful rose, and Mrs. W. M. McMillan, an armful of roses and carnations.

At 6 o'clock a three-course banquet was served, Mrs. Charles Nelson catering.

An important feature was the ice cream, which bore the emblem of the order, the Crescent and Star, in pink and white. The tables were extremely pretty, being decorated with large jardineres of peonies and carnations, the national flag occupying a prominent center of each table.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson gave an eloquent toast to the past presidents, and Mrs. W. M. McMillan responded with a toast to the division.

Among the 60 members present were Mrs. C. Bossinger and Mrs. W. A. Bigler of Chicago; Mrs. F. Stanley of South Bend and Mrs. Laura Cowan of Goshen. Letters of regret were received from Mrs. R. M. Smith of Toledo and Mrs. Jane Webber of Clayton, Mich.

Much praise was showered on to the committee of arrangements, consisting of Mrs. W. M. McMillan and Mrs. A. J. Curran.

The banquet was under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Johnson and Mrs. W. C. Poyser. Mrs. M. A. Overlease prepared special music for the occasion.
